A. INTRODUCTION

Modern slavery is a criminal offence under the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (the “Act”). The Act imposes obligations on organisations of a certain size which carry on a business in the United Kingdom. Modern slavery can occur in various forms, including servitude, forced and compulsory labour and human trafficking, all of which have in common the deprivation of a person’s liberty by another in order to exploit them for personal or commercial gain.

Nexans has adopted this policy with the aim of preventing opportunities for modern slavery occurring within its business and supply chains. In this policy, the term ‘modern slavery’ has the meaning given to that term in the Act.

At Nexans we are committed to running our business responsibly. Nexans has a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery. We are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business or in any of our supply chains.

We are committed to ensuring there is transparency in our own business and in our approach to tackling modern slavery throughout our supply chains and we expect the same high standards from all of our contractors, suppliers and other business partners.

Scope

This policy applies to all colleagues, vendors, contractors, and other third parties acting on behalf of Nexans.

We have a zero-tolerance attitude to modern slavery and we are committed to opposing modern slavery in all its forms and preventing it by whatever means we can. We demand the same attitude of all who work for us and expect it of all with whom we have business dealings.

B. PREVENTION OF MODERN SLAVERY

In order to prevent the occurrence of incidents of modern slavery within Nexans and throughout our supply chain we shall:

identify, monitor and assess those areas of our business and supply chain most at risk from modern slavery and implement initiatives to enhance risk management effectiveness, re-assessing at least biennially;

engage with our contractors, suppliers and other business partners at the outset of our business relationship to convey to them this policy and to require them to comply with it, and with the principles enshrined in the Act, at all times;

incorporate anti-slavery and human trafficking obligations as part of our procurement agreements and contractual processes and, where appropriate, carry out an audit and/or investigation of the activities of those contractors, suppliers or business partners deemed high risk; and provide training to relevant colleagues to facilitate achievement of the objectives of this policy.

C. REPORTING INCIDENTS

Any Nexans employee, but also any client, supplier, sub-contractor or shareholder and more generally any third party, may report a compliance breach directly to the Group Ethics Correspondent through the online whistleblowing system made available by the Group (phone line available as well), which can be found under the following web address and is also available (i) on the Group's website, (ii) on a main search, (iii) through the Groups intranet page accessible to all employees.

Via the web at: nexans.speakup.report

The online whistleblowing system is an independent, external Confidential Web Reporting Facility provided by "Speakup" which employees, clients, suppliers or any third party working with Nexans can use to report suspected serious malpractice or wrongdoing. This offers a safe and confidential (and if necessary an anonymous) means for people who may otherwise feel uncomfortable coming forward to their Line Manager or UK HR Manager.

At the start of a submission of an online report, a report number will be allocated to facilitate call back or subsequent access to the website to check for a response, or to facilitate the provision of additional information.

The Group Ethics Correspondent will treat each incident report with the highest degree of care and will guarantee the confidentiality of the person making the incident report, as well as all personal data collected, communicated and stored in this context.

In line with the Nexans Code of Ethics and Business Conduct policy and in compliance with local applicable law, Nexans will not expose the reporting individual to any sanction even if the facts are not conclusive or do not lead to any investigation or sanction.

D. POLICY VIOLATIONS

A colleague involved in a wrongdoing, will be dealt with in accordance with the Nexans Logistics Ltd Disciplinary Policy and Procedure.

An external party, such as an agency worker or contractor, will be reported to the relevant person's employer which may in turn result in the termination of the service contract with the contractor, contracting company, or agency worker.

Nexans may also take action to recover any losses sustained, which may include the issuing of civil and/or criminal proceedings against the colleague/contractor and/or other individuals concerned.

E. RESPONSIBILITIES

It is the responsibility of all colleagues to comply with this policy with a view to developing and maintaining a working environment at Nexans in which modern slavery is understood by all to be unacceptable. To this end, a copy of this policy is provided to all colleagues, who are expected to familiarise themselves with it and abide by its provisions. The Policy does not, however, confer contractual rights on individuals. It is fully expected that all colleagues will act reasonably regarding this issue.

Nexans requests suppliers to take part in its CSR approach by committing themselves in a continuous improvement approach towards the principles listed in our Supplier CSR Charter, which establishes the principles that suppliers shall adhere to their activities and sites worldwide.
